DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Old Leeds Stone House is a stone home built in three stages. The earliest section of this house is two bay square with a side bay entrance on the facade. The house has a gable roof and the exterior has been stuccoed. A large brick chimney is located in the east gable wall. Unfortunately a large window has been built into the facade. Built onto the east gable wall of the original house is a two story stone structure nearly identical to the original house with the exception of an entrance. A twentieth century one story addition has been built on the east end of the first addition. The window sash in the earliest sections are 6/6/

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This house is of little significance architecturally due to its many alterations. The house could have been built in the 18th century but it could not be discerned by an exterior examination. The house could have had a tie to one of the nearby Mills but again this cannot be verified at this time.
